Are pleased to announce a special family history session

Sunday, 2 March 2014 from 2 – 5 pm (following Mass and breakfast)

Researching Online: The Good, Bad and The Ugly!

Research methods have changed over the years and we as genealogists need to look at different approaches in gathering information about our ancestors. This lecture will explore various online sites that can assist you with your research. We will discuss the value of online databases and some of the pitfalls. Are all research sites equal? Are subscription sites worth the money or can you get the same information on free sites?

Janis Duffy is a past President of TIARA (The Irish Ancestral Research Association) and has led many tours to Ireland and Salt Lake City with TIARA. She has been researching her roots for over 25 years. She is currently working at the Library/Archives at the Massachusetts Maritime Academy in Buzzards Bay.

After the lecture, TIARA members will be on hand to provide consultations and help you with your research.

Cost: $25.00/person
Refreshments will be served
